INT. ELEVATOR

An elevator full of adults. Light music plays.

One adult cringes their face. The rest join over time.

One presses the button dramatically.

One gags.

One stops breathing.

The doors open, everyone rushes out to breath fresh air.

Pan down to see a little boy smiling sinisterly.

INT. HALLWAY

A little boy walks down the hallway. He walks two steps and stops. Two more steps then stops. Two more and turns the corner.

An adult walks through the hallway and coughs.

Another adult walks through the hallway and wafts their hands passed their face.

Another can taste the poo follicles in her mouth and gags.

The boy sticks his head out from around the corner smiling sinisterly into the lens.

THE FARTER #3

INT. BEDROOM

A little boy sits on a bed looking at a tablet. He keeps moving to different parts of the bed.

First the duvet, then the pillows, one by one. Then he submerges himself under the covers.

He hears footsteps. He gets up and pats down the sheets and leaves the room.

Two adults in their night clothes, settle into the bed. One opens a book. The other fluffs up her pillow before laying on it.

The book reader, looks over at his partner after wiggling his nose.

The other partner looks suspiciously at her partner.

She lifts up the sheet and coughs. She lays back down and starts rubbing her eyes.

He closes his book and fans away the smell. He lightly hits her with the book.

She sits up now with bloodshot eyes and looks at her partner.

Mum
You're disgusting.

Dad
Me? You're disgusting.

Cut to the little boy outside listening to the door. And smiling sinisterly down the lens.

Mum (O.S.)
My eyes... They're burning.

Dad (O.S.)
Well maybe next time don't fart on the pillows.

Mum (O.S.)
Did you fart in the pillows?!

Dad (O.S.)
No!!!
